

By 2050, in just a few short years

- More than HALF of the population is going to be blend of African American, Hispanic American, Asian American and Native American.
- As skin care professionals, we need to know how to treat this population.